Lagos looks to the water to beat traffic gridlock

Autres langues vivantes
FR

Lagos looks to the water to beat traffic gridlock

Video file
Lagos looks to the water to beat traffic gridlock

Traffic jams are a real headache in Lagos, Nigeria's biggest city, which is home to more than 20 million people. To get cars off the roads the local authorities are now trying to develop water transport.

Niveau
Cycle 4
Lycée
Thématique
Langues vivantes
SES